Who said a science degree never killed anyone?

135 grams (120 ml) of gamma butyrolactone
63 grams of Sodium Hydroxide or
91 grams of Potassium Hydroxide
Papers to test pH
(read below for baking instructions)

Georgia Home Boy , commonly known as GHB.

So I went to this club one night, you have to understand that during the beginning of my killing spree I went a little crazy. I call it my honeymoon phase, I loved it all, it wasn't till later that everything I did it was like a borderline orgasm, I needed to push the button a little further to climax. Eventually I became numb to it all, but in all that time I sure did do some damage Anyway, back to the club. I was there to watch a band play. I believe the band performing was AudioErotica, great bunch of guys. Anyway I was sitting in the back of the bar and I noticed these 3 girls walk in, 2 blondes and 1 drop dead gorgeous brunette, she had an exotic look to her, probably about 5'5" skinny like a toothpick, mini skirt, strait jet black hair, and heavy on the eye make-up. I watched these girls for about ½ an hour and watched for what they were drinking. The brunette was drinking Apple Martini's. This was going to be easy.

FGC had his GHB and was ready to strike. This girl was careful, she never left her drink unattended. Good Girl. But really... what good is that, If someone wants to trip your drink there are ways around that.

I watched her carefully finish her last sip. The waitress came around and took their order again. Once the waitress went to the bar to order the drinks it was my turn to pounce. I followed the waitress up to the bar and started chatting her up, she was a nice girl, I forget her name, but I do remember she was a college student. Anyway the bartender made her drinks and stacked them on the bar, The waitress grabbed the drinks and then continued to set them on top of her tray. I asked her to do a shooter with me, I picked a name of a shooter that didn't exist, she then tried to look it up n the waitress station computer, and obviously couldn't find it, This gave me enough time to drop the GHB into the drink. O well, we settled for a Tequila. No lime though, definitely no salt, that shits for pussy's.

Again, I sat back and watched the band play, it was a great time killer. 15 minutes later, I looked over and this brunette was about done her drink. She started to look a little wobbly. I had to make sure to get to her before someone else did , so I walked up behind her with an apple martini in hand and used the worst pick up line ever. " Will you do me for blow?". She laughed, turns out the drugs had just started to work their way into her blood stream, yes, this was going to be way too easy. I brought her up to the bar for a shooter. At the bar and asked for 1 tequila, 2 staws, and 2 bottlecaps. Anyway the bartender brought back these weird red drop shooters? Haha They were shooters CALLED bottlecaps, O' well we drank them anyway. Then I asked him again for some actual physical bottle caps from off the top of beer bottles. Ahhhhh yeah, miscommunication, we ended up getting the bottle cap shooters for free. That was cool.

Anyway , we took the drinks and walked away back to my table.

I laid out the 2 bottle caps and poured them full of tequila, I handed her a straw and asked " are you ready?" she looked at me like I was crazy. (she wasn't too far off). I put the straw up my nose and said, let's do this. She took the challenge. She actually beat me to it. She was ready to party. The GHB was kickin in full. I said to her" I think you need to dance. She was a mess, anyway the dance floor was packed, people we're jumping/moshing, I pulled her through the dance floor so her friends couldn't see her, but I kept going right off the dance floor and we slipped out the door, she was a little confused on why we were outside, she didn't even see it happen, her head was racing WAY to fast. She said to me at one point. "Where are we going?" at this point I had her out to the back of the parking lot and used some chloroform on a cloth to cover her mouth, she was out !!

I had stolen a truck earlier that night, so I put her in the back seat, and we drove off.

I took her to an abandoned warehouse on the outskirts of the city. I did the most damage to this girl while she was unconscious, like I said before, I was still in the beginning phase of my killing, and didn't wanna be distracted by her crying and yelling out in pain.

I duct taped her to a chair then I took a knife out of a little handbag that I brought and started to shave all her fingers like sharpening a pencil. It actually worked different then I thought it would, after about 2 fingers, I realized that I can just cut around the finger to the bone and pull the skin off like socks. Wow that was neat So I starting thinking to myself, what else would work like that?, and I remember in a movie once I saw someone do a scalp transplant, so sure enough, yeah ... I started at one ear, cut up around the forehead, and proceeded along the hairline until I got to the other ear. I started to tear away, but it was stuck. Not as easy as I thought. Anyway I cut again, this time around the back of the hairline to complete the circle. Now she had a full section cut around her head. I grabbed her by the back of the head, and did a "1,2,3 PULL" WHOA !!! it came right off. I don't know why this fascinated me so much, but I couldn't stop. Next I cut off the skin of her toes. All this and I don't think she even lost more than 1 pint of blood. Now it turned into a game, "where can I pull skin from and not lose huge amounts of blood?". I then tried to remove the skin from the hands, Shit, I hit a Vein, I covered it up with a towel, and decided to leave the Hands alone, I decided to pull more back from off the face I slit from ear to ear, but this time I went under her chin. I pulled back her face, the eyes came off nicely, but somewhere by the nose it started to stick, right then her eye's shot open, HOLY FUCK that scared the shit out of me, I kinda forgot she was still alive, I kinda snapped back into a alternate reality.. what the fuck was I doing? I couldn't even remember at that moment what the fuck was going on. She didn't scream, she was more like .. Hyperventilating, wow she wasn't so pretty anymore. I couldn't even recognize her as the same girl anymore, I pushed her face back on to try and get a good look at her, but the skin had already started to die, so it didn't work, her forehead just flopped down to cover her nose and top of mouth. I had to sit down, I remember being so anxious that I had to take a break. I don't know if I was scared or excited. Anyway I got up and ripped her face off. I actually RIPPED her face off, who'd of ever thought. I heard her chanting something like "Oh my god Oh my god what the fuck Oh my god Oh my god" it was kind of a whisper. Well I saw a heavy duty staple gun in the warehouse, so I plugged it in and put her face back on backwards. I covered her face with the scalp "POW POW POW" and I stapled it to her forehead and ' I think' the cheek bones? I wasn't sure. Then I grabbed the face off the floor, dusted it off a bit, and stapled it to the back of her head, I took a picture of this, It was later confiscated, but I'm sure one day it will surface. But if you ever see it, trust me, she was a lot prettier when I first picker her up. When I left I jabbed my knife in the back of her neck so she wouldn't suffer. I left the truck there and just walked for about a day after that. I never even knew her name.

Georgia Home Boy

1. Place the content of the gamma butyrolactone bottle in a stainless steel or pyrex glass saucepan. Do not use aluminum cookware to make GHB.
2. Place the content of the NaOH or KOH bottle in the same saucepan.
3. Put SLOWLY around a half cup of warm distilled water in it. Put a cover (fast! the reaction may be immediate) on it but not tight.
4. Wait a little it will start reacting on itself. If it doesn't (after 2-3 minutes), heat it a LITTLE (once it reacts remove it from the stove).
- 4.5 If there is some NaOH not dissolved, stir it up till it is.
5. (This step is optional, some like it like that and others prefer to heat the solution a little.) After it's finished. Start heating it slowly. You will see it starting boiling. Don't overheat! It can burn. Do it for one hour. Don't forget to add water if you make it boil for a long time.
- 5.5. Between step 4 and 6 you might see a white compound on the side of the saucepan (it doesn't happen everytime). Don't throw it away, it's GHB. When you will add water, it will dissolve.
6. When you are finished, put it in a measuring cup (Pyrex) and fill it with water (when I'm in a hurry to taste it I use ice) to 1000ml (a little more than 4 cups). That way you'll have around 1 grams per teaspoon.
7. Measure the PH. If it's higher than 7.5 add vinegar to lower it to below 7.5 It can take 50 - 75 ml of vinegar.
9. To store it I use a mason glass jar with a plastic cover. I draw the poison logo on it (very important! you don't want a kid to take a full glass of GHB). I place it in the fridge, the taste is better when it's cold.
